HAVRE DE GRACE DECISION

DETAILS OF RULING RECENTLY ANNOUNCED
BY MARYLAND COURT OF APPEALS.

Members of Chief Judicial Body of State Unanimous in Conclusions Reached—Constitutionality of Special Act Completely Upheld.

Additional details of the decision recently rendered by the Maryland Court of Appeals in the Havre de Grace racing case are now available. The decision holds that it was the intent of the Legislature to suppress horse-racing or to prohibit betting thereon, and this is the basis for its ruling that the now-famous Harford County Racing law, known as Chapter 132, passed at the last session of the General Assembly of Maryland is unconstitutional. The court also upheld the validity of the Racing Commission appointed under the provisions of the act for the conduct of racing at the Havre de Grace track.

The opinion, which was written by Judge John P. Briscoe and concurred in by a unanimous court, sustains the action of Judge Harlan in the Harford County Circuit Court, where the proceedings were originally instituted, in every respect. Concerning the method of appointing the commission, the court says that if the present method is objectionable the act can be amended or repealed and a new mode of appointment adopted.

The decision of the Court of Appeals overruled the opinion of Attorney-General Poe as to the unconstitutionality of the racing measure and brought to an end the strenuous effort made by Governor Goldsborough to prevent racing at the Havre de Grace track.

The case originated in a suit for injunction instituted in behalf of the state, and it went to the Court of Appeals in the name of William L. Clark, Sheriff of Harford County, against the Harford County Agriculture and Breeders' Association. The constitutionality of the act was attacked on the grounds that it creates an arbitrary and unreasonable classification as to the persons or associations conducting racing; that it authorizes the commission to fill vacancies occurring among its members, and that it confers legislative powers on the commission.

It is pointed out in the opinion of the Court of Appeals that the object and purposes of the act were to restrict and regulate racing, pool-selling and bookmaking, and to limit it to certain corporations formed for the purposes as mentioned in the act, and as power was given the commission to issue licenses therefor the restriction was not by way of class discrimination, but by selection and designation, so as to safeguard the objects and purposes of the legislation.

It was contended that the Racing Commission was an illegally constituted body, since its members failed to qualify as prescribed by the Maryland Constitution, and that the license granted by it was null and void. Upon this point the Court of Appeals ruled there was no question of the act requiring the commission to take the oath of office, and no civil commission was issued to its members; they manifestly did not come within the requirements of the code.

"There was nothing in the act," the opinion reads, "to indicate any intention upon the part of the Legislature to create or establish a public office or to confer upon the commission power as individuals; the powers and duties are conferred upon the commission as a board or quasi-corporation. The commission must act by a majority vote, and there is no individual exercise of power except by a majority vote."

It is pointed out that the only difference in the provisions of the General Laws, as they were at the time of the enactment of the act in controversy, lies in the method of granting licenses for the conduct of horse racing. Chapter 132, the court says, did not repeal the General Law with regard to betting, bookmaking or pool selling on horse races, even so far as Harford County was concerned, but merely substituted a commission as the source from which licenses should emanate in lieu of that provided by the General Law.

While classifications made by the act are in some respects necessarily special in character, the opinion says, "we do not think they afford a proper ground for complaint, because they are just and reasonable and in no way arbitrary. In other words, they operate alike upon the persons and property under the same element of the act in contravention, and bear a reasonable and just relation to the act in respect to which classification is proposed."

The opinion further says that the act in question is founded and based upon the right of the state, in exercise of its police power, to regulate and control horse racing and bookmaking at such races.

The opinion also upholds the propriety of courts of equity issuing injunctions in criminal proceedings as a means of protecting property interests, as was done in the Havre de Grace case, when Sheriff Clark was restrained from interfering with the race meeting at the track there last summer.

"Of course, the decision of the Court of Appeals settles the matter," Attorney-General Edgar Allan Poe is quoted as saying. "If it decides that the members of the Racing Commission are not required to qualify by taking an oath of office and that it is a duly constituted body, nothing more can be done to end the racing that has been complained of until the next Legislature meets."

TURFMEIN FLOCKING TO EL PASO.

Brilliantly Successful Meeting in Prospect for the Jockey Club Juarez—Gossip of Recent Arrivals.

El Paso, Tex., November 19.—Evidence continues to multiply that the Jockey Club Juarez is destined to enjoy its most prosperous meeting yet during the two-day session scheduled to begin at its magnificent track just across the international border on Thursday next week. Every day brings accessions to the ranks of the turfmen already quartered here in preparation for the opening and, judging from the number and character of the reservations made for hotel accommodations on the part of visitors still to come, El Paso will entertain the greatest number of visitors in the history of the city. All parts of the country are contributing to the generous patronage which it is evident the meeting will receive.

Some 600 horses are now domiciled at the Juarez track and most of them are ready for racing. Large fields of good horses should be the rule during the meeting. Racing will take place on every day of the week except Monday and, in accordance with the custom in Latin countries, Sundays and holidays will be the banner days from the sporting standpoint.

Among the horses that were quartered here before the recent arrival of the big shipment from Louisiana, were E. Dwyer's Bob Allen, Royal Body and Pedro; P. De Beque's Virginia Lidsay; Mrs. Baker's Maxine, The Freda and Coming Soon; B. T. Patton's Molesey, Swede Sam, Sir Irenus and Sparkette; J. E. Stewart's Transparent and Annual Interest; J. H. Lamb's Jim Land and Song of

THIRTY LEADING MONEY-WINNING HORSES OF 1912

Most of the thirty leading money-winning horses of 1912 have been retired from racing for the year and their accounts are made up. Such of the list as remain in racing can make some further gains at Jamestown and Juearez, but not enough to disturb the positions of the leaders of the list, particularly the six which have $10,000 or more to their credit. This select band is made up of the six-year-old High Private, the five-year-old Sotemia, four-year-olds Star Charter, three-year-olds The Manager and Froglegs and the star two-year-old Helios. The other crack two-year-olds, Hawthorn and Leochares, narrowly missed gaining the same high distinction. The records of the thirty best winners are now:

PIASTRE WINS THE MELBOURNE CUP.

The Melbourne Cup, the world's most valuable handicap, was run over the famous Flemington track Tuesday, November 5. It is a dash of two miles, for three-year-olds and over, at $150 each, $50 forfeit and only $20 if declared with $25,000 added. This year it had 208 entries, of which twenty-three went to the post. At the finish W. Brown's four-year-old bay colt, Piastre, by Postano—Claude Bee, won by a head, with a length and a half, and a half, with E. Norton's five-year-old bay horse, Hawthorn, by Martagon—Hawthorn, finishing second and W. Reid's four-year-old chestnut colt, Uncle Sam, by United States—Molly, third. The time was 3:27.4. Concerning this race, Emslie, about some things and speaking from knowledge about others, an Australian in England went to London Sporting Life: "If you have not been to Flemington you have no conception of what Cup day means, or what the spectacle is like. There is no course in the United Kingdom which approaches that of the V. R. C. in its comforts, its convenience and its spectacular effects. The horses can be seen from the moment they leave the barrier until they flash past the judge's box. They are never out of sight; every phase of the titanic struggle can be watched and noted, and every person among the 100,000 can see it all. There is sitting accommodation for close upon 50,000, and the saucer-shaped formation of the race course permits the other 50,000 to view the race just as well as if they were sitting in the grandstand.

"There are no people on the face of the earth who worship at the shrine of the horse so much as Australians, and it will be some pleasure to them to know that once again a good horse has won. A month ago Piastre was not among the most-fancied candidates. His trial gallops were recorded, like those of every other horse, but no great consideration was given to his prospects of carrying off the most important handicap race of the year. Not because Piastre was regarded as unlikely to perform great deeds, but because from the first day he looked through a bridle on a race course he had never realized the early expectations formed of him.

"A strapping light reachy bay colt by Postano out of Claude Bee, he was first trained by Scobie, at Ballarat, and one time was regarded as a Derby winner. But fortune never dealt kindly with the colt, and time after time he disappointed his trainer and the stable patrons. As a two-year-old he was only placed once in ten tries, and then it was in an inferior handicap race, but he was fast and the stamina, but he appeared to lack confidence and resolution. At three years he had learnt more about the game, and finished fourth in the Melbourne Cup, and in the same position in the Derby, after making a run which appeared certain to return him a victor. All through he could make a sprint within a sprint, but he did not sustain it. Finally he was taken to Sydney. Possibly the difference in atmospheric conditions has accounted for his fulfilling the high hopes that were entertained of him when he entered the yearling ring. Latterly he has been training in company with Perdita, which was placed in both of the Derbys, and his owner, William Brown, must therefore have had a most optimistic idea of his horse's possibilities. That he started at 10 to 1 indicates that he either made a very bold show in the Hotham Handicap, run on Saturday, or else that he did well in the Melbourne Stakes on the same day. Six to one means that at least $200,000 would be lost by the ring, but bookmakers unquestionably would rather have seen him than some of the other candidates get home first. Bobada, for example, won by the gentleman who won the last Cup with The Partisan was backed for $250,000 three months ago, and was nibbled at continuously until the race started.

"Fred Merton, who made his money out of 'Mertrud' Reward (claim), near Kildare, Western Australia, can win the Caulfield Cup, but can only knock at the door in the Melbourne Cup. Of Hawthorn, which raced without success in England, high opinions were formed last year, but he did not then fashion into the standard necessary to win a cup. With a big stable in which he has been trying to back the horse which has beaten his best, so perhaps luck has again favored him in this respect. Hawthorn is the first English-bred horse to score in the Cup, and the first horse at the minimum weight to get a place in twenty years.

"Uncle Sam has done what several good horses have accomplished before him. He won the Caulfield Cup and ran into a place in the Melbourne Cup, can win the Caulfield Cup but can only finish first, his performance is one which stamps him as a clicking good horse. Caught in the big races in Sydney and fairly punched in the Caulfield Melbourne Cup, the ring will have cause to remember these races for some time to come."

ANSWERS TO QUERIES.

Communications without names and addresses will not be noticed nor answered. No answers will be sent by mail and none by wire unless reply prepayment is made at time of wiring query.

F. A. G., Norfolk, Va. No replies by mail. Since the date named Lahore has won $11,555.

C. G., Hamilton, Ont. Worth was only beaten three times when a two-year-old and not once by Spirit.

J. V., Toronto, Ont. The $10 from the too-late bet on Sand Illeg went on Chester Krum and won at 3 1/2 to 1.

L. M. H., Cleveland, O. Under "P.P." in our charts the positions of horses at the post are given. At the tracks such positions are usually determined by lot.

H. V. L., Chicago. For your $25 bet on Cliff Edge in the last race he won you should have received $227.5, being payment at the average price of the first bet.

W. N. Jr., Chicago. The parlay to show on Rosternum, Guy Fisher and Mud Sill won on the last two and was void as to Rosternum because there was no separate place price against him.

DOUBLE FOR CONGRESSMAN

ANCON AND CAUGH HILL CARRY T. D. SULLIVAN'S COLORS TO VICTORY AT NORFOLK.

Caugh Hill Runs an Impressive Race in Winning All-Aged Handicap at Sprinting Distance—"Kill-ing" Made with Aviator.

Norfolk, Va., November 19.—The colors of Congressman T. D. Sullivan of New York were in the limelight at the Jamestown Jockey Club's track this afternoon. Ancon and Caugh Hill carried them to victory, the former in the opening race, a dash of five and a half furlongs for two-year-olds, while Caugh Hill beat a band of shifty sprinters in the all-aged handicap at six furlongs, which was run as the third race.

Caugh Hill showed a splendid performance in winning his race. He came from behind and, wearing down the leaders, won in easy fashion by a length from Besom. The latter showed sensational speed in the early running. Taking the lead with the rise of the barrier, he ran the first quarter in :22 1/2 and the second quarter in :23 1/2. Grover Hughes was in close pursuit of the leader to the stretch turn, where he went a little wide, but at the finish he came again and was only beaten a head for second place.

The Tidewater Handicap, a dash of one mile and a sixteenth, went to Cliff Edge. Butwell rode a splendidly judged race on the winner. Cliff Edge broke slowly, was taken around with a rush in making the turn into the backstretch, and then was ressed until they had gone about four furlongs. As they swung into the homestretch, Butwell cut the corners and the ground that he saved at this point enabled him to get on even terms with the leaders. At the end, Cliff Edge responded with good courage and he was gradually improving his position at the finish.

A killing of no mean proportions was made when Aviator won the sixth race. He was backed from 50 to 1 to 15 to 1 by his stable connections and he never left the result in doubt. Taking the lead at the start, he was never headed and he won by a length and a half from the heavily backed favorite, Berkeley.

Black Chief was the easiest winner of the afternoon. He had a five-lengths margin in passing the judges and was only centering. Incidentally he and Ancon were the only winning favorites.

Only four of the ten starters in the hurdle race finished the course without mishap. The winner eventually turned up in Dr. Heard, which beat Azme Maid in a desperate drive. Lizzie Flat booted at the sixth fence and was responsible for the falling of Sanctum, Beniala and Lamplack. Gallin and Firmer also came to grief, the former bolting over the outside wing at the first fence and unseating his rider. Fortunately all the riders escaped injury.

James Rowe was a visitor at the course this afternoon. He came from Brookdale Farm to look the Whitney horses over and incidentally to arrange for what horses Mr. Whitney has here to go into winter quarters.

Hilarious is reported to have spread his foot the last time he ran and will be laid up until the opening of the Charles in meeting.

A. A. Weston sold the three-year-old, Heretic, to J. O. Talbot this morning for $600.

Reach Sand, which went wrong in his last start, has been fired and will be rested until spring.

Hugh Penny has decided to winter W. P. Austin's horses at the Norfolk track.

James Hewitt will purchase a couple of horses to race at Charleston. His old campaigner, Pulka, died at Louisville about ten days ago.

J. L. Holand has secured first call on Jockey Teaching the rest of the Norfolk meeting.

H. H. Emmons, owner of Randolph, winner of the Latonia Cup, came over from Kentucky to look the game over. Mr. Emmons has not yet decided whether to race his horses this winter or retire them for the season.

John Duffy will ship the horses he is training for E. F. Condran to Newark, Del., at the conclusion of the local meeting, where they will go into winter quarters at "Doc" Murray's farm. Included in the string is the Kentucky Oaks winner, Flannan.

Jockey Ambrose will ride in England next season. He will sail from New York in February to join the stable that Jack Josselyn is handling for Harry Payne Whitney on the other side.

The Quincey Stable horses will be shipped tomorrow to Gravesend, where they will remain until the opening of the spring meeting at Falmouth in 1913.

W. H. Snyder, owner of A. B. Dade's assistants, will leave for Hemaite, Mo., at the conclusion of the meeting here. Mr. Snyder owns a farm at Hemaite and is a breeder of fancy short horn cattle. Eddie Tribe, another of Mr. Dade's assistants, is also a breeder. His place is located in York County, Md., about eighteen miles from Baltimore. He, too, will retire for the season at the conclusion of the Norfolk meeting.

Amos Turner has turned Knight Deck over to C. H. Smith, who will ship him to Charleston and race him in Mr. Turner's interest.

Winner—B. g. by Mazagan—Silver Juliet (trained by A. Zimmer).
Went to post at 2:14. At post 3 minutes. Start good and slow. Won easily; second and third driving.
ANCON took the lead at once, and showing the most speed all the way, was under restraint at the end.
WILLIS responded resolutely to punishment under a drive and finished fast. VOTES began slowly and raced steadily into a close up. PIKE'S PEAK was a forward contender to the stretch turn and third last, but finished gamely and showed improvement. FLY-BY-NIGHT closed a big gap from a poor start.
FAIRY GOLDMOTHER and SCHALLER showed speed, but tired in the stretch.
